The Los Angeles non-profit auburn art gallery invites photographers from around the world to submit entries for its Keep it Green! exhibition, which celebrates nature as we come across Earth Day (April 22).

From landscapes to wildlife photos and everything in between, you're welcome to submit any photographic work that is focused on the natural world (and no, it doesn't have to be green!). 100% of entry fee proceeds will be donated to The Ocean Cleanup and the Environmental Defense Fund.

For this exhibition, auburn art gallery welcomes photographer Nathan Gentry (www.nathangentryphoto.com) as its juror. Nathan is a visual artist and writer whose work highlights the relationship humans have between each other, as well as their relationship with their world. His projects "A.D.D. (another.damn.distraction)" and "Our Planet" have exhibited internationally.

It's the gallery's vision to bridge the gap between well-recognized photographers, excellent amateurs and those who are eager to learn. If you have a good photo, we'd love for you to submit. Simple as that!

How to submit: If you have photos that fit this theme, visit www.auburnartgallery.org/submissions. At that page, you can submit up to 5 photos and pay for your submissions. You may also send entries directly to matt@auburnartgallery.org. (To have your photos considered, you must pay the entry fee before the deadline. Accepted photographers will be notified 3 days after the deadline, and should keep an eye out for an email requesting additional information. Check your spam!)

Photo criteria: Matt Harding, founder of auburn art gallery, will choose roughly 25 photos for the exhibition. They will be selected based on quality and originality. All photographic work will be reviewed; however, photography must be the primary medium. The top three images, as chosen by our juror, will be recognized at the gallery and on our Flickr page.

Notes: There is no entry fee for members (see auburnartgallery.org/become-a-member for more details). Accepted exhibition entrants may print and frame their own work or have the gallery to do it for a fee (see our website's Submissions page for details). All photographers are encouraged to price their work for sale during the exhibition. The gallery retains 25% of sales (or get an even better rate by becoming a member). Email us with any questions.
